

The Kisan-Vigyan Foundation has marked a promising start to its journey by presenting its inaugural Policy Discussion Paper to Shri Manoj Ahuja, Secretary-Agriculture, Government of India. The paper, titled "Will India Be Food Secure in 2047?" provides a comprehensive overview of the multifaceted landscape of Indian agriculture, its challenges, and potential solutions.

The handover of this first Policy paper took place in the presence of the distinguished members of the KAKV Governing Council, under the leadership of Sh. Vijay Sardana, Chairman, and included Sh. NK Arora, Dr. R.K. Malik, and Mr. Nimish Gangrade. During the exchange, the Foundation engaged in a detailed conversation with the Secretary of Agriculture, delving into how these critical issues could be addressed in the future. Both parties agreed on the importance of discussing such papers with key stakeholders and brainstorming actionable solutions to address national challenges. To this end, an invitation will be extended to all stakeholders, including political leadership and the Hon'ble Agriculture Ministers of all states, for a collaborative brainstorming session.

The Foundation anticipates that this Policy Discussion Paper will serve as a foundational resource for finding solutions to the challenges affecting India's food security. It is expected to ignite substantial policy discussions at both the national and state levels. With the Hon'ble Prime Minister's vision of a developed India by 2047 in mind, this initiative underscores the importance of formulating appropriate policies in a timely manner to ensure sustainable national food security.

The Foundation encourages active support from individuals interested in participating in these discussions. Those willing to be part of this vital dialogue are encouraged to express their interest and specify the sectors in which they can contribute. A database of experts and professionals who are eager to contribute to the nation's development will be created to support this noble endeavor.
